Planners Should Solve Zone Change Tonight

That controversial question of to zone-change or not to zone change on Sunberry Drive which has plagued the City Planning Commission for a number of meetings, may be solved tonigth with a minumum of blood sweat and tears.

It is reported that the parties involved in the past skirmishes before the official city bodies have reached an amicable agreement and thus the Planners should have a much easier time of it reaching a decision.

The question of Sunberry zone-change involves the application of Philip Sondeno who has requested that four lots on Sunberry Drive be changed from residential to multiple dwelling. Residents of the street have protested vehemently in the past to such a change.

Spokesmen for the residents at the last hree meetings have been Mrs. W. P. Mertsching, 439 Sunberry and Dick Lee, 197 W. Ken Circle.

The application of J. M. Dahl and S. Prestigiacomo for another zone change which indirectly affects the Sunberry people has also been pending before the commission. A decision on this question is also expected tonight.

It is reported, however, that Prestigiacomo has withdrawn his application thus the Commissioners will only have to act on part of the zone-change request. This property extends from Winchester Road along the projected Hamilton Ave. Prestigiacomo has objected to the improvements that the City has suggested that he make.

Other matters before the Commission tonight include the continued application for approval of plans for William King for a 14-unit apartment at Harrison and Central and also the approval of the tentative subdivision map for Quito Rancho.

A public hearing is also scheduled on the application of Cosmo D. Perrotta for a change in zone of property located on the northwest corner of Garrison Drive and Winchester Road.

L. W. Phillips is asking approval of plans for a 24 unit apartment building on the east side of Dunster Drive.

Trustees Accept Bid of $163,427 For Camden Rooms

Trustees of the Campbell Union High School District on Tuesday night accepted the low bid of $163,427 by the Alkens Construction Co., for the 14 classrooms at the Camden High School plant.

The successful bid was considerably below the architect's estimate of $173,285. The firm of Clark, Stromquist and Potter of Palto Alto is the district architect. The high bid was $175,718.24. Oliver Jensen has been appointed district inspector for the job.

Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent, expects the construction of the classrooms to get under way within two weeks with completion date set for October.

The board will open bids on the swimming pool at Camden High School on Monday, May 6, at 8 p.m., Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent, reported this week also.

Construction of a music building, art rooms and girls gym, next to be scheduled will complete the building program at Camden, the superintendent reveals.

Deis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deis of 4848 Tilden Drive, Cambrian Park, has been awarded a four-year renewable scholarship amounting to approximately $1400 per year by the Ford Foundation. The Campbell High School senior was notified of the award Easter Sunday in a telegram from the Foundation.

State Calls for Bids on Route 5

Bids were being advertised this week by the State Division of Highways for the construction of 8.8 miles of the Route 5 freeway which will pass through Campbell and connect Saratoga Ave. in Los Gatos with Bascom Ave. in San Jose.

The conract will include the grading and paving of the four-lane divided freeway and the construction of 15 structures. Bids will be opened on June 5.

The freeway will extend along Los Gatos Creek from the extension of Saratoga Ave. to the Santa Cruz highway, near the Los Gatos city limits, which is now in use. This week a crosstown highway, linking Saratoga and San Jose avenues in Los Gatos, was opened. This construction includes a bridge over Route 5.

High School Teachers Get Salary Break

Teachers in the Campbell Union High School District were the beneficiaries of two actions of the trustees this past week and both actions pertained to salaries.

The board authorized a raise in present salaries of the teachers for next year amounting to an average of $800 per teacher and, in addition, adopted a new salary schedule which increased the minimum and maximum pay.

The new minimum salary is now $4250 compared to the previous $4155 while the maximum has been raised to $7725 compared to $6730. Laurance J. Hill, district superintendent, said that the new pay schedule compares favorably to those in the nearby districts.

The adoption of the minimum and maximum salaries followed a series of conferences between a teachers' committee headed by Verdun Romer and a trustees' committee of Joseph V. Gomes, Emerson (Doc) Arends and Raymond Bishop.

The new schedule closely follows that which was originally recommended by the Teachers' Salary Committee.

Hill pointed out that very few of the 140 teachers who will be employed in the district next year will be affected by the raise in minimum pay. Most of the new teachers are starting at least $4500, he said. He estimated that the median salary received by the district teacher is now 5800 and about five in the district will receive the maximum of $7725.

To receive the maximum, a teachers must have taught at least 12 yrs, have a bachelors degree and have completed at least 60 units of graduate work which is more than is actually required for a masters degree.

Campbell Shows Well in Building

Although construction in the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area in March this year, was down a whopping 45 per cent from March of 1956, Campbell was one of the few bright spots in the entire area and showed an increase, according to figures released by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in San Francisco.

All building construction in Campbell totalled $148,000 in March of this year, compared to a paltry $56,000 in March 1956. Campbell was one of the few areas in Santa Clara County to show an increase over a year ago. Only Gilroy, Los Altos, Los Gatos and Mountain View were up in this county. The county in general showed a slight decline in building, although it fared better than all others in the nine-county area.

Campbell also showed an increase in the number of units jumping from only six permits in March, 1956 to 16 in March, 1957.

Lowest in 10 Years

According to Max D. Kossoris, regional director for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics, building permits issued in the nine counties for new dwelling units in March of this year were lower than any other March in the past 10 years. He said that, although the permits showed a scant three per cent rise over February, the normal spring upturn was almost completely absent.

Santa Clara County was far out in front of the nine counties with a total of 900 units authorized which was still 10 per cent below March 1956. The other counties experienced sharp drops in comparison.

Old Settlers' Day Plans Go Into High Gear for 65th Annual Event

Parade Will Have Plenty of Music

Schools, military and professional musical groups will all be tooting away in the 65th Annual Old Settlers Day Celebration parade on Sunday, May 18, it was reported this week.

The Chamber of Commerce office announced that 18 musical organizations have signed up which includes the U.S. Marines, Department of Pacific band and the 5th Infantry for the military.

Schools are represented by the Los Gatos, Campbell, San Jose and Washington high schools and Campbell, Benner, Union and Pala elementary schools. A number of drum and bugle corps (including the famed Chinese Girls Drum and Bugle Corps) and the Southern Pacific band and a 25-piece band composed of professional musicians complete the music groups.

The professional group of 25 musicians is being donated to the celebaration by a grant from the Music Performers Trust Fund recommended by Local 153, American Federation of Musicians of San Jose under the direction of Sam Cava, a member in top standing of the union.

As of Wednesday more than 70 entries were already signed up for the parade and indications are, according to Eddie Wright, parade chairman, that the entry list will exceed last year's record number.

Do-See-Do for Real

Eddie Wright, chairman of the dance committee for Old Settlers Day, this week announced that there will be "live music" for the big square dance that will take place in the Lee Bros. market parking lot on Saturday night, May 18 as part of the three-day celebration.

Wright said that the "Sage Brush Ramblers" have been procured for the big event which is free to the public and will get under way at 8:30 Saturday.

Wright also reported that Lou Hughes, well known caller, will do the calling at the dance which is underwritten by Lee Bros.

Parade Gets New (Marshal) General

Campbell's Old Settlers Day Celebration on May 17-18-19 was indirectly affected this week by a hassle brewed in Sacramento when it was announced that Brig. General Clarence H. Pease would replace Major General Roy A. Green as grand marshal of the Old Settlers parade on Sunday, May 19.

General Green will not make the Campbell jaunt because he has been directed to retire by orders of Governor Goodwin J. Knight on May 13, a week before the Old Settlers Day celebration.

Old Setlers Day has nothing to do with the retirement orders. General Green merely be-

Eight Girls Vie For Queen Title

Just at the deadline last Friday the list of Old Settlers Day queen candidates was doubled in size when four girls joined the four candidates already announced and thus a field of eight now seek the coveted honor of reigning over the 65th annual Old Settlers Day celebration on May 17-18-19. All candidates were issued books of tickets and began their campaign on Saturday.

The queen will be selected when the final tabulation is made of the tickets sold to the Footlighters production, "Caught in the Villain's Web" or "More Sinned Against than Sinning". The girl selling the most tickets to the play which will be presented on Friday evening, May 17 and again on Saturday afternoon, will be selected queen. Ticket sales must be concluded prior to 6 p.m. Tuesday, April 14 when all money from the sales must be turned in.

Only one of the eight candiddates is without a sponsor, according to Mrs. Naomi Hardison, queen committee chairman. The chairman indicated that a sponsor might be forthcoming by next week, although it is not necessary to have a sponsor, according to the rules of the contest.

Barbara Tilley, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tilley, 304 N. April Way, a senior at Campbell High, is the one without a sponsor at the moment.

The other three who entered last Friday were, Lucille Bova, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bova, 758 S . Clover St., a junior at Campbell High and sponsored by the El Diablo Hi-Y.

Donna Whitaker, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Whitaker, 41 S. Winchester Road, a junior at Campbell High and sponsored by Eta Phi Hi-Y.

Pat Cramer, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cramer, 165 E. Hamilton and sponsored by El Oso Hi-Y.

The four other girls in the race are Bobbie Little (Theta Rho Girls Club); Donna Silva (Orchard City Grange and Blossom Valley Garden Club); Lovelle DeBois (Sno-White Drive-In) and Joan Faulkner (Business and Professional Women's Club).

Under the rules of the contest, the candidates must turn their money for the ticket sales into either Mrs. Hardison or to Mrs. Ruby Cook at the Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday, May 8 and then again prior to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, May 14. The judges will then check the tabulation.

The winner will receive a necklace of cultured pearls and a wardrobe selected by her valued at $50. Second and third place contestants will receive trophies with the sponsor of the winner receiving a plaque.

The queen will be crowned Friday night at the play and will preside over other activities of the Old Settlers' Day. She will also have an honored position in the parade on Sunday afternoon.

county, authorized 420 units, a drop of almost 60 per cent; San Mateo, with 374, and Contra Costa with 230, showed drops of 40 and 65 per cent, respectively. With the exception of Marin County where the total was 160, only about five per cent below March 1956, all the other counties showed severe decreases ranging from 60 per cent in San Francisco and Solano to almost 75 per cent in Napa and 80 per cent in Sonoma. The nine counties listed are, Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Mateo, San Francisco, Solano, Santa Clara, Napa and Sonoma.

Santa Clara County in addition to new dwellings led also in the total building construction which includes nonresidential as well as residential.

Bright Spot Here

W. L. (Bud) Morser, Campbell building inspector, was particularly pleased with the way Campbell fared in comparison to other localities, both in this county and in the entire Bay Area. He said that despite a general decline, prospects for an increase in building construction in the Campbell area in the future are also bright, based on plans that are now on the drafting board or even further advanced.

An interesting point in the overall picture noted by the inspector was that Campbell ranked sixth among the cities of the county in the number of permits issued during March, even outstripping Palo Alto in the number but not in valuation.

Among the cities of the county, Sunnyvale took the lead in the number of permits issued (233) but San Jose led in dollar value. In third place in both phases was Santa Clara followed by Los Altos and Mountain View. Palo Alto, although low in the number of permits, was next to Los Altos in dollar value.

Campbell Gets $1740 in Sales Tax Collections

Campbell gets $1,740.41 as the city's share for the amount collected in the local sales and use taxes in the first month of 1957, according to Robert C. Kirkwood. This makes $21,051.78 that the City of Campbell has received since the sales tax went into effect in October, 1956.

The controller's office explained that the bulk of the current amount received represents only receipts from January sales by taxpayers who report at monthly intervals.

The county's share of the tax is $44,861.38 which brings the total received by the county to $397,349.49 since the county-wide tax went into effect.

San Jose heads the list of recipients in the county with a $68,932.03 check this time and a total of $801,438.68. Palo Alto is in second place with $24,438.69 now and a total of $252,026.42.

Only the newest city in the County, Monte Sereno, is not represented in the checks this time which go to 15 Santa Clara County cities.

Los Altos Hills, with only one or two businesses, gets a check for the first time of $12.12. Saratoga, another new city getting in on the sales tax for the first time, receives $574.85.

Campbell is in ninth place in the county's list of 15 cities as far as the sales tax is concerned, outstripping Milpitas, Morgan Hill, Cupertino and Alviso as well as the two new cities. Ahead of Campbell in order of rank are San Jose, Palo Alto, Mountain View, Santa Clara, Sunnyvale, Los Gatos. Los Altos and Gilroy.

Campbell People Keep Phones Busy

People in Campbell seem to be doing more and more of their talking on the telephone.

That's he way it looks according to word received from Pacific Telephone.

The company reported that an average of 34,226 telephone calls are made here every day, some 4,081 more calls than the daily average last year, and 30,700 more than at the end of World War II.

The number of telephones here has been growing too. Last year, 2,631 new telephones were added in Campbell, bringing the total number here to 10,583.

To meet the ever expanding telephone needs here, Pacific Telephone has invested some $2,375,213 in telephone facilities here. Of that figure, $586,103 was spent during 1956.

Seventh Million Gets License to Drive in State

An unknown applicant for a California driver's license will soon become the "seven millionth" licensed driver in the State.

Paul Mason, Director of Motor Vehicles said estimates by the Division of Driver's Licenses indicate that the outstanding total of operator's and chauffeur's permits will pass the seven million mark by the end of May, 1957.

"The totals outstanding in recent months, and the current rate of applications received in 200 communities of the State, indicate a total of 7,000,000 valid licenses may be expected by May 31, 1957," Mason said. He pointed out that approximately six per cent of the driving licenses are chauffeur's licenses issued for commercial operation ,and that it would be impossible to determine in advance whether the " seven millionth" would go to a truck driver or a pleasure car operator.

"Californians should be aware that half the population of the State has qualified under the law to hold the driving privilege," Mason stated. "The resulting traffic on our streets and highways is unprecedented in any other State or country. Strict compliance with traffic laws and courteous driving practices is a necessity in the interest of public safety."

The total of licenses expected to be outstanding at the end of 1957 will present an increase of more than five per cent over the total at the end of 1956, and of more than 50 per cent over the total at the end of 1947.

Salvation Army Asks for Salvage

The Salvation Army this week began its annual spring Salvage drive with the theme "Your Throwaways Make Work That Pays", according to LBen Howard, Campbell chairman. Residents wishing a truck for pickups should call CY 4-6316.

The Salvation Army during its spring drive has made plans to receive repairable discards, clothing, furniture, appliances, rags, etc., where they will be reconditioned at the Social Service Center. The products thus reconditioned will then be sold in the Army's Thrift Shops.

According to Howard, at the Centers the therapy of productive work is combined with the therapy of skilled counseling and simple friendliness to restore the confidence and build skills of the men.

Vote-Seeking Judges Get Break in Assembly

(CNS)—The assembly has rejected a proposed constitutional amendment which would have prohibited judges from seeking other elective political office during the term for which they were elected or appointed to serve.

The bill, ACA27 by Assemblyman John L. E. Collier (R-Los Angeles), gathered only 29 favorable votes with 41 voting against it. A total of 54 votes were necessary for passage.

Assemblyman Edward Gaffney (D-San Francisco) said the bill would "put a straight-jacket on judges" and attempt to kill ambition among them.

Have You Taken a Personal Property Inventory Lately?

An inventory for insurance records should list all your possessions

You—and millions of others, too—soon will be taking that trip to the country, the vacation at the lake, the two weeks at the shore. Most likely you'll return home to find the place exactly as you left it.

Or will you?

Some, unfortunately, will not.

They will find that fire, possibly windstorm or other disaster struck in their absence. Or the premises looted.

Most likely they had insurance . . . but did they have enough?

And how about yourself?

Unless you have increased the amount of your policy recently, you may be in for a shock! Fire insurance loss adjusters tell us that many persons are woefully underinsured. Even though the amount of insurance was adequate, when the policy was written some years ago, it may not be adequate today.

Result: There's not enough to cover losses, after disaster strikes.

So wouldn't it be to your advantage now—before you take that promised vacation—to make up an inventory of personal property?

Your inventory will be helpful in arriving at a satisfactory settlement of loss because it will remind you of each item of personal property involved. Also, it will enable you to bring the extent of your insurable coverages up to date and establish current insurable values. In the last 10 years, for instance, building costs have doubled and not all people have kept their insurance in step with rising values.

Ask your agent about this. Also, ask your agent for a household inventory form. Fill it out today. Then you will enjoy your vacation.

How to Make an Inventory

Do not guess at values. If you want to arrive at a fair figure, put down the replacement cost, estimate the life of the article and deduct a percentage indicated by the remaining use-value of the item.

If you have fine arts, jewelry, furs, or valuable books or curio collections, they should be itemized and specifically scheduled at their actual appraised value in your insurance policies.

Vehicles, such as automobiles and boats, are never included in fire or personal property policies but should be insured separately.

Don't trust your memory. Take each room separately—go into that room and list everything in it. FNS

Neighbor Comes Through

An appeal in the columns of The Campbell Press last week for an old-time siren to be used on the Model T Ford fire engine the local firemen are reconstructing for use in the Old Settlers parade was answered shortly after the paper hit the streets.

And the guy who answered it was the next door neighbor to Bill Morgan, one of the Campbell firemen who had been searching high and low for just such a siren.

George Dye, 472 Richlee Dr. told Bill that he had just the thing but hadn't known Bill needed it until he saw it in the paper.

TO CALL FOR BIDS

Campbell elementary school district trustees expect to call for bids for the Blackford School (number 12 for the district) on May 23, Superintendent William C. Henley has reported. Completion is expected by Christmas. Wayne Fontes, principal of Hamilton, will be the principal of the new school. No one has been named to replace Fontes as yet.

We Betcha You Like 'Em

When it was revealed that there wasn't enough money in the committee's coffers to do the job, the Campbell Press guaranteed the necessary finances to bring back to Campbell for the Old Settlers Parade on May 19, the crowd-pleasing, colorful Chinese Girls Drum Corps from Old Marys in San Francisco.

It was estimated that it would cost about $150 for bus fare and meals to bring the cute gals back.

The Press suggested other organizations or individuals might want to join the newspaper in this project.

But thus far nary a soul has come through.

So we guess we will have to dig into our jeans all by ourselves.

But we betcha you still will like the gals.

Brewer Comes Through

Tom Brewer of the Boston Red Sox pitched his first victory over the Yankees in three years to beat New York 2-1. Brewer was Boston's top winner last season with 19 wins, but was 0-7 against the Yanks up to this game.

It was also a good day for Don Newcombe of Brooklyn—a 27 game winner in 56, he won his first game of the season against the Pirates 6-2.

Herb Score, left-hander, scored his second straight victory Saturday against the Detroit Tigers 2-1. Score pitches for Cleveland.

Josox Look Good

Dick Whitman, manager of the San Jose Josox says his team is a thousand per cent better than last year and is convinced that this year's team will capture the imagination of the local fans. All ready the fans are talking about Jim Aldrege, 17 year old colored boy in center field. Dr. Stan Skillicorn and Bob Podesta are gettinb raves too. Let's all get out there and support our local team (they need it) and I know you'll enjoy yourself too.

Reed Takes Main at San Jose

Jerry Reed of Seaside took the main event Saturday night after a restart when his brother flipped. He had the lead in the third lap and kept it to win.

It was an exciting evening with many flips and spins, but no one was injured. Dee Hileman of Los Altos lowered Al Pombi's record of one lap of :18:15 seconds to :18:06.

Fremont Trackmen Beat Bucs, 66-55

Campbell gave the Fremont Indians a shot in the arm last Friday afternoon as they went down in defeat 66-55 for the third straight time.

Monty Nielsen and Mike Profit came through again as the two double winners for the Bucs, Nielsen capturing the 100 yard dash in 10.2 and the 220 in 22.5 while Profit topped all comers in the shot put at 55 feet and won the discus with a whirl of 130-6.

Getting a boost from a recent loss, the relay team from Campbell was clocked at 1:32.9 to post the best relay time in SCVAL competition this season so far.

Nino Martinez captured the 440 in 53.3 with teammate Bob Bridge, fully recovered from his injured arm, copping the 880 yard run at 2:11.0. Rounding out the long distance runs Leroy States topped the field in the mile event at 4:58, with Gary Foote placing third.

Fremont made a clean sweep in the high hurdles but Dave Alvarez managed to pull down the third spot in the low hurdles.

Bob Jiminez placed second in the high jump but the Indians captured one-two-three in both the hop-step-jump event and the broad jump. In the pole vault Campbell came through with the second and third places with Tuttle and Martinez placing in that order.

The B's were sadly trounced 101 to 21 as were the D's 50½ to 26½ but the C's downed the opposition by one point 48-47.

FROSH-SOPH LOSE 6-4

Campbell's Frosh-Soph baseball team lost last week to Los Gatos by 6 to 4 after Los Gatos took the lead in the fourth inning and never relinquished it. The Bucs led prior to that by a 3-2 count. Williamson, who doubled, Corbus, who tripled, and Papa, who homered, accounted for the only hits for Campbell.

RECREATION HEAD

Buford Amyx, Salinas city parks and recreation director, has been appointed to head Santa Clara County's first receation department, County Executive Howard Campen announced Tuesday. He will assume his new duties the first part of June.

Campbell Golfers Do Okay Until Lick Spoils It

Successfully defending their undefeated record, the Campbell golfers downed Sunnyvale 10½ to 1½ and defeated James Lick and Menlo Boys Club 12-5½ and 18-0 in a triple meet last week at Spring Valley.

But on Tuesday afternoon the enviable record of the Bucs went by the board as James Lick came through to give the locals a shellacking.

Win 3-Way Meet

The Spring Valley meet was a three-way-contest with Terry Wilson bringing in the low score of 81 for the Bucs and Harvey Alford close behind with an 85. Grant Burton followed with an 88.

In the triple meet competition with James Lick and Menlo the Bucs walked off with top honors trouncing Lick 12-5½ and humiliating Menlo with a complete rout 18-0.

Terry Wilson shot his usually superb game finishing the nine hole round with the day's low of 35 topping all competition. Ron Rowe helped the Buc cause with a 41 to defeat his opponent followed by Dave Lawson and Harvey Alford shooting 43's.

Dennis Cummins ended the match with a total of 46 tying teammate Chuck Harrison.

Lick Does It

Campbell dropped its undefeated golf title Tuesday afternoon to the James Lick Comets, who waxed the locals 23-5 at the San Jose Country Club. It was the first match for the Bucs on the San Jose green and they had trouble in mastering it.

Terry Wilson added three points to the hopeless Buc cause as teammates Harvey Alford, Ron Rowe, Grant Burton, Jim Nevis, and Steve Walters went down in defeat.

FREMONT WINS 6-4

Fremont gave Campbell a 6-4 defeat on the diamond Monday afternoon in a practice game at Sunnyvale. The Indians scored one in the first, two in the second, two in the fourth and one in the sixth while Campbell failed to score until the fifth inning and one in the top of the sixth. The Bucs tallied twice in the seventh but couldn't pull the game out of the fire.

Buc Tennis Team Splits Matches

Los Gatos took the measure of the Campbell tennis team 6-1 but the Bucs bounced back to defeat Washington 4-3 Monday afternoon on the losers courts.

Los Gatos soundly thumped the Bucs and would have completely swamped them if it had not been for the efforts of senior Don Brown who defeated Dave Moore 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, for Campbell's lone victory.

Art Hill lost his singles match 6-0, 6-3. Bruce Johnson battled Dick Kimball in three sets before going down in defeat 6-4, 3-6, 0-6.

Gene Andres fell to Walter Bohn 6-0, 6-2, with Terry Garrison dropping two sets by identical scores of 6-1.

In the doubles division Bill Powell and Dick Kettlewell were defeated 6-3, 6-1 with Paul Hicks and Gary Benson putting up a terrific fight in three sets but were unable to take the lead suffering a 6-4, 8-6, 6-4 defeat.

Washington had a harder time with the Bucs and were finally controlled by a 4-3 margin, on the loser's courts.

Gene Andres as the number one man defeated Tom Gillett of Washington with Terry Gar- of Washington 6-4, 6-0 with Terry Garrison downing Ken Andrus 6-3, 6-0. Don Brown made it three victories for Campbell as he pounded out a win over Don Hillmare in three sets 5-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Bruce Johnson downed the number four man 6-2, 6-0 for the final Campbell victory and the winning point.

Dick Fritch controlled Campbell's ace, Art Hill in three sets 2-6, 6-3, 4-6 with both doubles teams coming out on the short end of the score. Dick Kettlewell and Bill Powell were set back by the opposition while Gary Benson and Paul Hicks were meeting defeat at the hands of George Arnold and Bob Joseph.

Kiwanis Club Sponsors Track Meet Here Saturday

Placing the emphasis on individual effort rather than on schools or teams, the sixth annual Kiwanis Picnic Day will take place this Saturday, May 4, at the Campbell Union High School track.

There will be 15 schools participating in the trackfest which is jointly sponsored by the Campbell Kiwanis Club, Campbell Union High School District and the Campbell elementary school district.

Joe Stein, physical educational consultant for the elementary district and Bill Priddy, high school track coach, are directors of the meet. Approximately 400 boys are expected to take part. The Kiwanis Club will award ribbons to all winners from first to sixth place.

Wayne Fontes, principal of Hamilton School and a member of the Kiwanis Club, will head the list of officials of the meet, composed of members of the Kiwanis Club and faculty members from both the high and elementary schools.

The meet which is an all-day affair, starting at 9 a.m. and finishing at 3:30 p.m., will be divided into two sections. One section will be comprised of seventh and eighth graders who attend schools in the high school district. There will be A, B and C classes in this section.

The other section will be composed of fifth and sixth graders from Campbell elementary school district only. There will be two classes in this section (E and F).

The fifth and sixth graders will complete their activities by 2:30 p.m. A 25 cent lunch will be served the participants from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Coaches and officials will be guests of the Kiwanis Club at lunch in the Home Economics building.

Events will include a 50-yard dash in all classes while there will also be a 100-yard dash for both A and B classes. The other classes will have a 75-yard dash. Both A and B will have 60-yard hurdle races and A, B and C will have a 440 yard relay as well as a medley relay. Classes E and F will have a shuttle relay.

All classes will have both the running broad jump and the high jump and A, B and C classes will also compete in the hop-step-and-jump. Class A entrants will heave the 8-pound shot while B and C boys will toss the 6-pounder. Fifth and sixth graders will have the football throw as one of their field events.

Officials of the meet expect many new records to fall during the sixth running of this event. Schools participating are Campbell, Cambrian, Union, Monroe, Moreland, Quito, San Tomas, Cherry Lane, Rosemary, Hamilton, Dover, Sherman Oaks, Moorpark, Cypress and Burbank.

Buc Tracksters Score Easy Win Over Los Altos

Campbell tracksters got back on the winning trail again Tuesday afternoon when they waltzed away with the Los Altos tracksters 91-31 on the loser's cinder track. The win broke the Buccaneers three-meet losing streak. They now boast a 4-3 record.

All the events were won by the Campbell cindermen with the exception of the hurdle events which were captured by Harrison of Los Altos.

In the 110-yard dash Monty Nielsen loafed to a comparative easy win in 10.6. He also topped the field in the 220 at 23.7 with teammate Dave Alvarez close on his heels.

Mike Profit and Ron Wilson scored first in two events along with Nielsen. Profit won the shot put at a short 56 feet 2 inches and the discus with a toss of 119-10 with Vince Sanfillipo making it one-two for Campbell. Gary Prnjak and Ken Buren finished two-three behind Profit in the shot put to make it a sweep for the Bucs.

Ron Wilson came up from the B's and won the broad jump at 18-10 and also placed first in the hop-step-jump event at 37-6. Larry Castle and Leroy States finished two and three behind Wilson to add nine points to the Buc total.

Gregg Hoffman got his share of the winners circle by breasting the tape in the mile run with Gary Foote and Danny Coats making the third clean sweep of the day for the Bucs.

The top height in the pole vault was 11 feet with Tuttle and Wall placing one-two for Campbell in that event.

Bees Deadlock

The B's ended the day's activities in a 61-61 deadlock after a hard scrap by both teams. Art Lantz was the only double winner for the Bucs in the B division taking the 150 yard dash in 16.6 and the 330 in 41 seconds.

Local Cees Win

For the C's the going was a little lighter and they emerged on top of the 62-2/3: 32-1/3 score. Jim Farrell was the big gun for the C's winning the 120 yard dash, the hop-step-jump, and the high jump.

SCVAL Battle

Campbell Swamps Los Gatos 12-5 As Baseball Season Nears End

By Richard Ferguson

Collecting 12 runs on 11 hits, the Campbell Buccaneers thumped the Los Gatos Wildcats 12-5 on the losers diamond last Thursday to knock the Wildcats out of a three-way tie with James Lick and Washington for first place in SCVAL play.

Campbell is deadlocked for the third spot with Santa Clara with a four win-two loss season. The leaders are in front at 5-1.

Nine men came to the plate in the top of the first inning for the Bucs as they turned in their best first inning of the season. Tony Ochoa collected a single as the lead off hitter with Ben Lujan pushing Ochoa to second on on a walk.

Dave LaBarbera popped out to left field but pitcher Hicks of Los Gatos loaded the bases. He nicked Don Kitajima on the side advancing the runners putting Ochoa on third and in scoring position with one out.

Jim Corbus placed a single into short right field scoring Ochoa and keeping the bases loaded. Jim Cole drew a walk which also brought across a run for the Bucs.

Roger Almquist collected one of his three hits of the game as he slammed out a single bringing home the third run of the inning. John Kriewall tallied the final run on a walk after which Tony Ochoa stood at the plate for the second time in the inning but stopped the rally with a pop fly into shallow right field.

Los Gatos Battled

Los Gatos battled right back to tie up the ball game in the bottom of the first inning on a well placed home run with the bases loaded by short stop Chase. The grand slammer proved the only highlight for the Wildcats in the game.

Dave LaBarbera knocked out a single to start the second inning scoring spurt for the Bucs advancing to second on a walk to short stop Don Kitajima. Hector Cordova collected an RBI with his short single wih Jim Corbus also tallying an RBI on a sacrifice fly.

Roger Almquist dropped a single into right field driving in Cordova for the third and last run of the inning. John Kriewall flied out to third baseman Campbell of Los Gatos to retire the side.

The three Wildcats were retired in order in the bottom of the second with pitcher Jim Cole doing the honors.

Two spots were highlighted in the third inning as the Bucs executed a double play with Los Gatos scoring one run on the sacrifice fly.

Sparkling for five big runs in the top of the fifth inning the Bucs turned the game into a runaway which dumped the Wildcats from the top spot in SCVAL play.

Tony Ochoa got on first with a single as the lead off batter advancing to second and third as Don Kitajima traveled to first for the second time of the day after Dave LaBarbera walked by virtue of a bean ball.

Hector Cordova drove in two runs on a long single. Catcher Jim Corbus reached first via an error by the center fielder while trying to bring down Corbus's fly. Don Kitajima scored on the play.

Nothing is particularly hard if you divide it into small jobs.

Friends Honor Pioneer Woman On 103rd Birthday

Mrs. Elizabeth Harrington Reed of Sunnyvale celebrated her 103rd birthday, Sunday, April 15 at a luncheon party given in her honor by Mrs. Clairbell McKenzie of 74 N. Second Street.

Attending the party for Mrs. Reed was her 84 year old son, Joel of Boise, Idaho, and a number of Campbell and San Jose friends. Luncheon centerpiece was a large birthday cake decorated with a covered wagon, commemorating her birth in 1854 while her parents were traveling with a wagon train on the Oregon trail.

Mrs. McKenzie, who has been a friend of Mrs. Reed for over 46 years, reveals some interesting facts about the pioneer woman's life, one of them being that she was stolen by an Indian squaw when just a baby and rescued by her mother who chased the fleeing Indian with a butcher knife until she caught her.

Mrs. Reed has two other children living; a son, Carl, 83 in Las Vegas, Nevada, and a daughter Edna, with whom she makes her home.

Mrs. Reed grew up in a log cabin in Montana and lived in that state until she and her husband moved to San Francisco in 1881. Later they moved to San Jose where she remained until the death of her husband, after which she moved to the old family home of her parents at Butcher's Corners where she is still living.

"April Showers" Themes Theta Rho Installation

"April Showers", using the president's colors of pale green and pink, themed the Fidelis Theta Rho Girls' Club installation of new officers Wednesday evening, April 24. San Jose No. 1 club performed the ceremony with Audrey Allinger as installing officer and Kay Wolf, treasurer of the Theta Rho Assembly, as installing marshall.

New president for the ensuing term is Ellen Youngren. Other officers seated with her are: Mary Ervin, vice-president; Nadine Wareham, recording secretary; Karen Redlack, financial secretary; Joan Geist, treasurer; and Marilyn Gilpatrick, junior past president.

Appointive officers installed are: Connie Loveday, chaplain; Janet Meckler and Diane Wilson, right and left supporters to the president; Donna Connor, conductor; Sherry Barker, marshall; Parry Rhin, warden; Sharon Carl, Margaret Farley, Jeralee Drew, Cheryl Daves, heralds; Carolee Meckler, musician; Bobbie Little and Millie Ervin, right and left supporter to the vice president; Carol Ostermier and Joan Farley, guardians.

As a parting gift, the club presented the retiring advisor, Mrs. Thomas Fladager, with a train case and sang her favorite son, "We'll Go a Long, Long Way Together".

New club advisor is Mrs. Ray Gilpatrick.

Marilyn Gilpatrick, the retiring president, was presented with a past president's pin and received a gift from the club and her parents.

After installation a trio, Connie Loveday, Donna Connor and Diane Wilson, sang "Tenderly" in honor of the new president.

Committee for the evening was headed by Janet Meckler.

The club's next meeting will be Wednesday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m. in IOOF HALL.

To awaken interest and kindle enthusiasm is the sure way to teach easliy and successfully.

Country Woman's Club Annual Tea to Benefit Campbell Library

The community will have an opportunity to assist in the maintenance of the Campbell Public Library when the Country Woman's Club hold their annual Library Tea in the clubhouse Monday, May 6, at 2 p.m. All persons interested in the library, either for themselves or their children, are invited to attend.

Founded 62 years ago in 1895, the library is now housed in the Country Woman's Club Building. Professor Elijah Jones, the first president, opened the library each day and worked for twenty years without compensation. His was a labor of love.

In the beginning, books were kept in the parlor of the old Congregational Church free of charge. Donations and an occasioal benefit kept the library functioning until the Country Woman's Club was organized in 1905, making the building and maintenance of the library its main objective through the years.

Today the library is affiliated with the Santa Clara County Free Library and receives some support from the Red Feather agency, but new books, shelving, lighting and a portion of the librarians salary are still taken care of by the club. All proceeds from the tea will go toward these expenses.

The club built the present building on Campbell Ave. in 1923 and the library opened its doors to the public in October of that year.

The Library and Tea committee, with Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan as general chairman, have arranged an interesting program for the afternoon. There will be musical selections and Sylvia Cirone, a Drama and Speech major at San Jose State College, will give a reading of "Victoria Regina".

Assisting Mrs. Morgan will be Mesdames C. P. Klassen, Dorothea Glass, E. R. Kennedy, J. D. Reilly, H. H. Keech, J. D. Contoni, O. C. Jensen and Miss Emily H. Snyder.

Can You See the Forest?

We think the following letter addressed to the people of Campbell clearly reflects the thinking of most civic-minded people who are interested in Campbell's future and how this community can achieve the objectives that are deemed necessary to make it a better place in which to live and work.

This letter happens to be written by City Councilman Myron L. Fairchild. but Councilman Fairchild emphasizes that it expresses only his own personal thinking on the subject and in no way can be considered an "official viewpoint".

AN OPEN LETTER to the People of Campbell:—

You are all familiar with the old adage; "They couldn't see the forest for the trees".

It would seem that this saying has a very particular application at this time to the People of Campbell. To specifically point up the aptness of the adage locally, let's say that the People of Campbell can't see the future for the past.

Campbell is a small and venerable residential community in which many have enjoyed a quiet peaceful and thoroughly pleasant atmosphere for a long period of years, and it is natural that there should be a desire for an indefinite continuance of these living conditions.

However, the very important consideration that seems to have been lost sight of is that the present residents of a community are not in a position of choice with respect to such things as rate of growth and the changed conditions and needs that come about as a result of increasing population.

Everyone must recognize the following facts:

1. That California is increasing in population faster than any other State.

2. That our own section of California is experiencing a more rapid growth than most other sections of the State.

In other words, there is a tide of population flowing in our particular direction from all other parts of the country; a tide which can neither be stopped nor stemmed. And, just as surely as day follows night, industry follows population.

We have seen the tremendous industrial expansion in the San Jose area in the last few years and now small manufacturing companies from other cities, counties and states are knocking on Campbell's doors and asking if they may look our City over as a possible place to settle. Also many new subdivisions have been and are being formed and requesting annexation to Campbell as are parcels of County land inhabited and uninhabited.

So it seems certain that Campbell is going to grow. The serious question is "how".

Is Campbell going to grow in an orderly and forward manner along with our neighboring cities or haphazardly backward because of apathy, lack of interest and the mistaken idea that, as individuals, we have no civic responsibility?

It is quite true that civic progress like any other kind does cost time and money, but progress is always a bargain when measured against its alternative.

To keep pace with other Santa Clara County cities, we need and must have a street improvement program, a storm drainage program, an expanded police department, a west side firehouse and additional firemen to man it. All of these things are feasible and possible, if approached in the right way. But to ask the present property owners in Campbell to finance such a program surely doesn't seem to be the right way.

So a bond issue which will permit these necessities to be taken care of now with the cost spread over the next 20 years and shared by succeeding generations of beneficiaries appears to be the only practical and business like solution to our multiple problem.

It is an investment with definite and sure returns in added enjoyment in living, now and in the future. It is the satisfaction that comes from putting our shoulders to the wheels of progress and in personal and civic pride in a clean, up to date City on a par with its neighbors.

To date, the people of Campbell in general have shown no interest one way or the other, either in joining the march of progress toward the future or in definitely resisting it.

Let's make up our minds which way we want to go. We must accept the fact that we inevitably go forward or inevitably backward. There will be no middle ground on which we can take a stand.

If we are willing to invest in progress, let's decide it now and get going for we will have no choice in the years ahead because we will have gotten so far behind the crowd that we can never hope to catch up.

And by the same token, if we are going to stay behind and lose out, let's be interested enough so that we don't just lose by default.

Respectfully and sincerely,
Myron L. Fairchild.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

When Jack Scott our fire chief was mentioned by our editor in a recent issue my thought went back over the years to when our town had no fire fighting equipment except the chemical stored back of the Farmer's Union.

A fire well started in those days usually burned something down. All furniture in all the houses in the neighborhood was moved to safety. So far as other houses were saved the furniture was moved back.

The population ran to the fires to help or to see. The well-meant efforts had no organization, no one in authority, excitement was intense, confusion ruled. Afterward there was some thing new to talk about.

Starts in Blacksmith Shop

One fire I recall originated in a blacksmith shop operated by A. Smith on the south side of Campbell Avenue between Central and First. This fire took the shop, two homes, and threatened IOOF Hall.

Another memorable fire was the burning of a large barn belonging to J. C. Ainsley, our cannery man. This fire threatened Mr. Ainsley's home and his entire plant. The barn was in the midst of everything, and everything was connected by wooden sheds and fences.

In a black night flame and smoke shot to the sky. Frantically excited men milled around swinging anything they could find to knock connecting things down. A man known to be half crazy was now completely so. He got hold of an ax, and as he wildly swung it he jumped about four feet into the air. in a sort of primitive dance. All near him were terrified.

By midnight the barn was reduced to ashes. No other large building burned. Nobody was much hurt and the town went home and to bed.

It remains to tell a story of the chemical.

One night about nine o'clock the cry of "Fire, fire, fire!" rang out. A group of men and big boys ran to the chemical and dragged it to a small house that already had flames pouring out the front windows and licking up the front porch. The chemical was properly turned over, but the nozzle got out of control and the fluid instead of being directed at the fire was hitting people in their faces.

Suddenly there shot through the chaos a stream of picturesque profanity. The man behind the voice seized the nozzle, bored through the crowd and directed the stream where it did good. The profanity flowed on and awed the crowd into self-control. A bucket brigade got into action and soon the fire was out.

When eventually Campbell Volunteer Fire Department was organized and I became its first secretary, I was not surprised to find the group somewhat addicted to profanity. I recalled the incident described. I thought that perhaps profanity was necessary to good fire fighting.

What Emerson says

Yeas later I was amazed to find Emerson in his journal saying. "What a pity we cannot curse and swear in good society! Cannot the stinging dialect of sailors be domesticated? It is the best rhetoric, and for a hundred occasions those forbidden words are the only good ones. My page about 'Consistency' would be better written thus: Damn Consistency!"

Years after a better man had taken over as secretary I fell into conversation with Chief Jack Scott about this very subject of profanity as an asset to fire fighters. Jack did not agree with my philosophy at all. He said that by their own group studies firemen of today have been educated above that Emersonian point of view.

I was abashed. I had thought that in conceding firemen the right to profanity I was being virtuous. What do I do now?

When our Fire Chief insists on raising the education and character of his organization to a high level I can do no less than vote for the improvement for our Fire Department wants. And that is precisely what I intend to do.

OUT on the LIMB
with
George Vierhus

In the Easter issue of The Press a few weeks ago we ran a picture of the new St. Lucy's Catholic Church which is far advanced in its construction stage. We thought it quite coincidental that the previous year at Easter time we had run a picture of the Congregational Church at almost the same building stage.

We wondered out loud whether this was setting some sort of a precedent. Every Easter a new church.

We gave Father Denis Kennelly of St. Lucy's the originals of the pictures we took of the church and it was doubly appreciative.

Father Thomas Ahern, assist-ant at St. Lucy's had told us he had been taking pictures of the various stages of construction but that recently while in San Francisco his car was broken into and his camera was stolen. In the camera was the undeveloped roll of film on which the various stages of the church construction had been recorded.

We are happy to note that our editorial on the low pay of postal employees has been deeply appreciated by those employed by the postal department. We can't recall when any editorial has been so favorably received by any one group.

We received several calls and letters from postal workers among them being Robert Holmes and J. Rader of the San Jose office who said they wanted to use the editorial in their campaign to get higher wages.

However, the letter we prize most highly was from the local branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers of which Hugh Nelson, Jr., is secretary. In addition to Hugh, the letter was signed by 19 other employees in the local office.

They said that they were particularly impressed by the paragraph in our editorial which noted that in many cases it was necessary for postal workers to hold extra jobs in order to make ends meet. The letter reported that a poll of the employees of the Campbell post office revealed that a majority of them had to have an "extra" job or that the wife of the employee has had to go to work to keep pace with the budget.

—o—

We were pleased that Frank Lester, carrier for Route 12, had signed the letter of appreciation to us, which indicated that he had read the entire editorial and not just its title. Our editorial was headed "Postal Employees Take the Beating".

You see Frank delivers mail to our house and for some reason our dog, "Checkers" has taken an intense dislike to people who make deliveries at our place, postmen included. When "Checkers" is out she gives Frank a bad time every time he starts up the driveway. That is one of the big reasons we have been forced to keep her in the garage until we get home because we haven't found a way yet to keep her from scaling the backyard fence.

We don't blame Frank for getting peeved by his reception at our house but we seem to be unable to convince "Checkers" that it pays to get on friendly terms with the mailman.

We are disappointed that our editorial didn't have any apparent effect on "Checkers" either. We hope it carries more weight with others, especially those who count in Washington.

—o—

Along with our Dorothy plus Laura and Joe Anello we were guests in Los Banos Saturday night at the annual kickoff dinner and dance which precedes the annual May Day activities in that community. We had a very enjoyable time. Among other features for the evening, the queen for the big event was chosen from among the 11 contestants.

We had been especially invited to the affair by a long-time friend of ours, Chan Manning, who is handing the publicity for the event which runs from Wednesday through Sunday this week. The parade on Sunday climaxes the big doings of "It's May Day in Los Banos" which is part of the Merced County Spring Fair and Livestock Show.

During the evening all four of us enjoyed a chat with Jacqueline Lief, the Los Banos woman cop who rose to fame some time ago when she appeared on the popular TV nationwide program "What's My Line". In fact it was "Jackie" who led us to Chan our host for the evening when we first arrived on the scene.

Incidentaly this guy Manning (his full name is Channing Manning, no kidding) maintains that the Los Banos celebration is as old, if not older, than Old Settlers Day in Campbell which we claim is the second oldest celebration in the state of California only exceeded by the Rose Tournament in Pasadena.

Chan, whom we have known since college days, told us that, if he handles the publicity for Los Banos next year, he will see to it that we will be made to prove our claim to seniority. He thinks it could possibly work into a pretty fair-to-middling feud—in the newspapers anyway.

—o—

We took a crack at the citizens of Campbell in general in our editorial last week. We voiced our disappointment in the apathy and lack of interest shown by the pople for the recent presentation in The Press on the needed city improvements.

You might say that the response was less than deafening.

We mentioned that during the year every section of Campbell had been represented at one time or another before the Council on some complaint but only a very few had bothered to clip the ballot from the paper.

We didn't expect to get any compliments on that editorial so we were agreeably surprised when Mrs. J. W. Schanck, 1158 Fewtrell, called us to say that she thought it was an excellent editorial and she, for one, was ashamed that she hadn't answered the ballot. She added that she would be willing to assist in a campaign to get the improvements.

She recalled that she was in the Fewtrell Drive delegation that had appeared before the Council asking for more police patrolling of their street because the danger to the children from speeding cars.

We thought it was darn nice of her to call us.

We could use more of the same.

Rotary Briefed On Atomic Energy

Pointers on General Electric's experimental installations for developing commercial atomic energy were given Rotary members when H. P. Baer, manager of control design engineering for General Electric Co., addressed the club Monday. Speaking on "Peacetime Atomic Power", Baer said the first method of using cold water to cool uranium has been replaced with a more satisfactory boiling water process and the resultant steam is being harnessed by generators to manufacture electricity.

Asked if working with uranium is hazardous, Baer said safety precautions are extremely good and make sure the work no more dangerous than the average occupation.

In the absence of the president, Merv Willoughby, the meeting was conducted by Neal Rover.

Members were urged to not forget the inter-city club meeting on May 8 to be hosted by San Francisco in Los Altos.

ADOPT QUEEN RULES

ON CAPITOL HILL

By Representative Charles S. Gubser

Soul searching is an everyday occurrence in the life of a Congressman. Unlike most businessmen our professional competency is dependent upon a demonstrated aptitude for things political. Oftentimes doing a good job of legislating requires activity which, thanks to the twisted words of some columnists and commentators, will be political dynamite. A Congressman must then choose between what he thinks his job requires and the public reaction which might put him out of a job. Congressional "junkets" are a prime example.

of the taxpayers' money but certainly not all of them. Following a trip to Holland two years ago I persuaded the Post Office Department to give Dutch mail week, in Silver Spring, Maryland, the first machine went into operation and unless I miss my guess the savings will be in the multi-million bracket.

During the annual Easter Recess our Armed Services Committee decided to inspect U. S. military installations in Europe. Personally, I much preferred having my Easter vacation in sunny California rather than spending two full nights and countless hours without sleep on an airplane. Instead of tramping around some advanced position of our new atomic divisions in northern Italy and listening to military briefings day and night I could have been home with my friends and done a little political "fence mending". Furthermore, the inevitable mail which will condemn my "vacation" at taxpayers' expense in an economy year wouldn't be on my desk following our return.

But what about my professional responsibility? Over one-half of the federal budget (43 billion) is spent on defense. 10% of everything we produce is dedicated to military use. Our Official committee trips are sometimes junkets and a waste sorting equipment a trial. This defense budget should be cut, but where? How do we adjust to England's withdrawal of forces from NATO? What do we do about the opposition of Europeans to our deployment of atomic weapons in their countries right under Russian noses? These are questions which are vital to our nation and I must answer them. As a farmer, I couldn't do a good job without inspecting my crops. No Board of Directors can run a business from an oak-paneled office without looking at the company property once in a while. Likewise a Congressman can't legislate from a vacuum. To know what he is doing he'd better take a look!

It would have been easy to make headlines which read, "CONGRESSMAN REFUSES JUNKET—cites economy need". Politically it would have been easier; personally it would have been pleasanter; but professionally it would have been neglecting my job!

LAW IN ACTION

TWELVE MEN

As a juror, you will do a service in its way as important as that of a judge. For a time you will become a part of our system of justice to decide a lawsuit without fear or favor, basing your verdict only on what you hear in court and what the judge tells you about the law of the case.

Why call people from their affairs to help try lawsuits? Why not let the judges hear and decide all cases? To this question the United States Supreme Court said:

"Twelve men of the average of the community, comprising men of little education, men of learning and men whose learning consists only in what they have themselves seen and heard; the merchants, the mechanic, the farmer, the laborer; these sit together, consult, apply their separate experience of the affairs of life to the facts proven and draw a conclusion. This average judgment thus given, it is the great effort of the law to obtain. It is assumed that twelve men know more of the common affairs of life than does one man, that they can draw wiser and safer conclusions from admitted facts thus occurring, than can a single judge."

Give up your prejudices and forget how your verdict may affect yourself. Do not let anything else influence you—a person's possible position, wealth, appearance, or his insurance coverage. As a juror, remember that you are actually a judge of facts. The judge will instruct you in the law to apply in each case you hear as a juror.

Court procedure calls for some formality and etiquette. Not that people should be uncomfortable or stiff, but their conduct should show the respect due the court as an instrument of justice. You should dress properly—for gentlemen, as a rule, coat and tie. (But in some places warm weather or custom makes it good taste to wear sport clothes—a conservative sport shirt with jacket.)

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

10-Day Event

San Jose State Opens Centennial Program Today at Civic Auditorium

San Jose State College today opens a 10-day celebration of its 100th birthday anniversary.

First event of the Centennial Festival will be the President's Convocation in the San Jose Civic Auditorium at 10 a.m. It will be preceded by a long and colorful academic procession from the campus to the auditorium. Heading the procession will be Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and President John T. Wahlquist. In the line of march will be representatives of 200 colleges, universities and learned societies.

Principal speaker at the convocation will be Dr. Ernest O. Melby, dean emeritus of New York University, whose subject will be, "Higher Education for a Dynamic America." Delegates will be entertained at a luncheon at the Hotel Sainte Claire following the convocation.

Another major event of the celebration will be a concert Friday evening, May 3, in the Civic Auditorum. Guest artist will be Miss Irene Dalis of the Berlin Stata Opera Company, who made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York on March 16. She is a 1946 graduate of the college.

The program will be presented by the college Symphony Orchestra, directed by Gibson Walters, and the A Cappella Choir, directed by William J. Erlendson. It will include a work specially composed for the centennial by Stanley Hollingsworth, a former SJSC student, who is now studying in Rome.

Other Centennial Festival events include nine productions of "Green Grow the Lilacs" by the Speech and Drama Department; an outstanding exhibit of paintings by California artists; four Children's Theatre productions of "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp"; a luncheon for retiring and emeritus faculty members; a civic Recognition Dinner on May 7; a symposium on "One Hundred Years of Public Education," May 9; a barbecue at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds preceded by the colorful Pushcart Relays and parade; open house and exhibits in all departments May 9, 10 and 11; a Centennial Ball May 10 in the Civic Auditorium; and the annual Spring Alumni Homecoming Day on Saturday, May 11.

Enrollment Keeps On Going up in County Schools

Enrollment in the Santa Clara County Schools as of March this year totals 106,257, an increase of 14 per cent during he year, according to the office of the county superintendent of schools.

According to the official fig- of 14 per cent during the year, ures, the high school disrict shows a gain of 23 per cent this year over last (2905 compared to 2354) while the elementary district has jumped 15 per cent ,6160 compared to 5359).

The Cambrian district has gained 34 per cent in enrollment this year. It now has 2379 in school compared to 1772 last year. Moreland has jumped 40 per cent from 1230 in 1956 to 1717 this year.

The total figure of 106,257 released by the county superintendent's office includes regular students from kindergarten through junior college. In addition there are 19,234 part-time adult students, making a grand total of 125,491.

That the enrollment figures are not expected to drop to any degree in the near future is noted by the fact that there are 810 enrolled in kindergarten in the Campbell system, compared to 553 in the eighth grade. Cambrian has 356 in kindergarten and 202 in the eighth grade while Moreland has 244 in kindergarten and 135 in the eighth.

Outside of the Palo Alto and San Jose school districts, the Campbell district is only exceeded by Sunnyvale in the kindergarten group. Sunnyvale has 886 in the classes while Palo Alto has 1255 and San Jose 1856. Cupertino is following closely on the heels of Campbell with 807 now in kindergarten. There are 456 in the eighth grade in Cupertino and 445 in Sunnyvale's eighth grade.

In the San Jose elementary system there are 15,977 enrolled and in Palo Alto 8,970.

The Campbell high school district with 2905 is the largest in the county with the exception of San Jose. Live Oak Union High School (Morgan Hill) is the smallest with 446 enrolled.

RATE HIKE HEARING

The California Public Utilities Commission has notified state, county and city officials and other interested parties that the first public hearing on the application of Pacific Gas and Electric Company for 5.94 per cent increase in electric rates will begin in the State Building in San Francisco at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, May 15.

In 1900 the popular Democratic vote for the presidency totaled 6,358,071; by 1952 it had grown to 27,314,992.

Assembly Bill to Boost School Aid Goes on Floor

Capitol News Service

A bill which boosts state aid to local school districts by $73 million a year moved to the assembly floor this week with committee approval but the big question of where the money is coming from still remains unanswered.

The bill, AB3045 by Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes (R-Claremont) was approved by the Ways and Means committee after an attempt to hold the bill unil tax matters were settled failed.

Some members felt that the expanded school aid bill should not be considered until the source of new revenue was found. However, the majority felt the bill should be approved, with the search for the money to come later.

The bill contains a rider that it will not take effect unless new tax revenues are forthcoming. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has indicated he would not sign the apportionment bill without new revenue being provided.

The California Teachers Association, sponsors of the Geddes bill, has carried on a high-powered campaign for its passage, as well as for approval of a cigaret tax and increased beer tax to finance it. The bill would raise the lever per average daily attendance in schools and would include a minimum salary boost from $3,400 to $4,200 for teachers.

A CTA spokesman admitted this would mean higher paid supervisors and administrators would receive proportionate increases. In addition, he said most school districts pay at least $4,200 for beginning teachers and an $800 raise would be reflected in their salary ranges in most cases.

In approving the bill, the committee overruled the recommendation of a subcommittee that the expanded support program be financed out of reserve funds.

B. of A. Pays Highest Rate for State Bonds

(CNS)—Highest interest rates paid on state bonds in 20 years have been accepted by A. Ronald Button, State Treasurer, when he disposed of $80,000,000 worth of general obligation bonds to a syndicate headed by the Bank of America.

The overall interest rate, the treasurer said, was 3.44 percent, compared with a rate of 3.31 on $85 million sold last January.

The issue covered $50 million in veterans bonds, and $30 million in school construction bonds.

FBI Report Reveals Major Crimes In U.S. Rose 13 Per Cent in 1956

Major crimes in the United States rose 13.3 per cent last year as compared with 1955, the Department of Justice has announced on the basis of the Uniform Crime Reports compiled by the FBI.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI, stated that an estimated 2,563.150 major crimes occurred in 1956, an increase of 300,700 over 1955.

The FBI Director also pointed out that 1956 was the first year in which crimes climbed over the 2½ million mark.

A significant factor in this upsurge of crime is the fact that crimes have increased almost four times as fast as the Nation's population since 1950.

Crimes in rural areas were ahead of urban areas in the rate of increase during 1956. Rural crimes rose 15.5 per cent, while urban crimes increased 12.7 per cent. The crime category showing the largest national increase in 1956 was larceny which rose 16.7 per cent. The only decrease noted was in the robbery category which was down 1.3 per cent.

Arrests of people under 18 increased 17.3 per cent in urban areas. The number of young people in this age group increased only about 3.0 per cent in 1956. Almost 46.0 per cent of arrests for major crimes in urban areas were of individuals under 18 years of age.

Highlights of Report

Following are the high lights of the Uniform Crime Reports for the year 1956:

—o—

There was a major crime committed every 12.3 seconds during 1956.

—o—

Every 4.1 minutes during 1956 there was a crime of murder, manslaughter, rape or assault to kill.

—o—

It is estimated that each day during 1956, 34 people were feloniously slain and 263 other felonious assaults were committed; 55 rapes occurred; 4,338 larcenies were committed; 721 cars were stolen; 155 robberies were committed; and 1,436 burglaries were perpetrated.

—o—

Larceny Up

Larceny was up 16.7 per cent in 1956; auto thefts increased by 16.1 per cent; burglaries rose 6.7 per cent; rape increased 6.3 per cent; aggravated assault was up 4.0 per cent; murder and nonnegligent manslaughter increased 1.8 per cent; and negligent manslaughter showed an increase of 0.7 per cent. The only decrease was noted in robbery, which went down 1.3 per cent.

The 12.7 per cent increase in urban crime during the reporting period was led by an 18.0 per cent rise in auto theft. Other increases were noted in larceny, 16.6 per cent; rape, 9.1 per cent; murder and nonnegligent manslaughter, 5.8 per cent; burglary, 5.4 per cent; negligent manslaughter, 4.1 per cent; and aggravated assault, 1.9 per cent. The sole decrease was in robbery, which was down 1.9 per cent.

—o—

Rural Crime

Rural crime increased 15.5 per cent. The increases were in larceny, 22.2 per cent; auto theft, 13.2 per cent; aggravated assault, 11.3 per cent; burglary, 10.0 per cent; rape, 2.7 per cent; and robbery, 1.7 per cent. Decreases were noted in murder and nonnegligent manslaughter and negligent manslaughter, which were down 5.4 and 2.7 per cent, respectively.

—o—

There was one major crime committed for each 65 persons in the general population of the United States during 1956. This figure is based on the July 1, 1956, estimate which set the population at 167,191,000.

—o—

There were 263,720 automobiles reported stolen during 1956 as compared with 227,150 during 1955. This is an increase of 36,579.

—o—

Victims of killers totaled 12,620, while 116,730 instances of rape or aggravated assault were reported. Robberies totaled 56,770, while 525,720 burglaries were reported.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Water correctly. More plants are killed by improper watering than in any other way.

2. English primrose may be divided as soon as they finish blooming.

3. Don't cut your lawn lower than 1½ inches. Short mowing frequently causes lawns to turn brown due to sun burning.

4. Watch for lawn moth damage. Control them by the use of chlordane or dieldrin.

5. Practically all flowering bedding plants can be planted now. In addition to the popular types such as snaps, pansies, and petunias, try some of the less commonly planted varieties.

Tuberous Begonias

Given the proper humidity and warmth, Tuberous Begonias can be grown in all their tropical beauty in most areas of California. The flower colors of the Tuberous Begonia range through shades of orange, yellow, salmon, apricot, red and white in a variety of blossom forms. The plant itself can be grown in the ground, in hanging baskets, in pots and raised beds. Also you may now purchase Tuberous Begonias in flats—making them readily available for planting in quantity.

Enrich the planting soil in a garden bed with steer manure and a little bone meal before planting; potted Begonias do well in a mixture of two parts coarse leaf mold and one part fertile loam soil. Place a broken piece of pot and one inch of roofing gravel at the bottom of a pot and then put in the suggested potting mixture. For hanging baskets use the potting mixture with a layer of gravel at the bottom of the basket.

Tuberous Begonias need good shade in the hot interior valleys of the state says the California Association of Nurserymen. Along the coast plant your Begonias in partial shade so that they have some sun but are protected from the hottest sun rays during the day.

There are many varieties of Tuberous Begonias. Trailing varieties suitable for hanging basket planting are known as Beagoni lloydi. Other varieties include upright types wih plain, crested, frilled, daffodil-like, camellia-like, rose bud-like or ruffled blossoms. A dwarf group, the multiflora nana, is covered all summer with small flowers of one and a half to three inches in diameter (in contrast to the normal sized Begonia blossoms of five to eight inches.) This group does best planted in full sun in the coastal areas—and in part shade, inland.

Tuberous Begonias are eye-catching flowers and should be planted as such. Set against shrubbery their brilliant colors look rich and lush. Under trees Begonias will have ideal growing conditions and the effect of rich colors under high-branching trees is very attractive. Planted with other flowers that harmonize rather than compete in colors Begonias look nice in beds and borders. The contrasting textures and colors of pots and wooden containers set off the Begonia handsomely when you grow them in containers of these materials.

Watetr your Begonias in the evening with a fine mist spray. Make sure the soil drains well. Start feeding the Begonia after it is established, perhaps at the bud-forming stage. You will get good results with almost any kind of liquid fertilizer with acid or neutral reaction. A splendid control for Begonia mildew is now available under the name of "Captan".

RHODODENDRONS

One of the most pleasant shrubs to live with in an outdoor patio, recreation area or ordinary garden is the Rhododendron. Part of the Rhododendron's appeal comes from its great varieties in size, type, color and fragrance.

The Rhododendron family is a gigantic one, including dwarfs, veritable trees and the very popular medium and tall growing shrubs that are so widely planted in California. Fragrant Himalayan Rhododendrons include Countess of Sefton, Lady Alice Fitzwilliams, Fragrantissium and Forsterium, all of which are tall-growing.

Popular varieties that have served California gardeners well for many years are Cottage Gardens Pride, Sappho, Pink Pearl and Alice. Fabia has been found to grow exceptionally well in the interior valleys and the many other low-growing varieties are suggested for the hot, dry areas for they appear to withstand wind, heat, sun and cold better than their tall-growing cousins.

The ideal planting site for Rhododendrons is under high-branching trees that filter the sun's rays. If you have no trees in your garden, plant Rhododendrons on the north or east side of the house, fence, large shrub or under a lath structure, suggests the California Association of Nurserymen. These planting sites are recommended for the interior valleys too. Make sure the soil drains well where you plant; if there is any question of drainige, plant in raised beds. Keep the soil around the plants moist and cool at all times and on very warm days sprinkle the foliage if the plants are not in the sun. Fertilize each spring with an acid fertilizer.

AZALEAS

Good news to California gardeners - especially those in the interior and southern areas of the state . . . there are evergeen Azalea varieties for every climate area in this state. Formerly considered only suitable for coastal climates, plantings of Azaleas observed in gardens all over the state have shown that this plant has a higher tolerance of sun and heat than previously supposed.

There are some 50 varieties of evergreen Azaleas generally available in nurseries throughout California. These varieties fall into nine groups which vary in hardiness and ability to withstand heat or cold. The Belgian Indicas can be successfully grown along the cool coastal regions; Kurumes do well in the same locale and are generally hardier than the Indicas. Brooks Azaleas were developed in Modesto to provide a group that would thrive in the valley heat. Southern Indias are successfully grown in southern California and they generally do well in the central valleys. Rutherfords vary in hardiness but usually are best in southern California. Glenn Dales and Gables extend the Azalea belt into the cold winter areas. Pericats are suitable for coastal plantings and Macranthas are easily grown in cool weather climates.

These nine Azalea groups include varieties that can be grown as ground covers, low mass plantings, foundation or container planting or medium to tall shrubs and hedge plants, says the California Association of Nurserymen. Azaleas bloom in beautiful colors; rose, orange, red, copper pink, white, salmon pink, violet red, ruby, lavender and more.

Drawing to a Close

Committee Sends Budget to Floor As Session Swings into Final Lap

Capitol News Service

Approval of the annual state budget by the assembly ways and means commiteee usually means that the legislative session is drawing to a close, and this year is no exception.

Late last week, the ways and means committee set the budget, totaling $1,915,569,142 to the floor of the house, and it was noted that little more than six weeks of legislative session remains for action on not only the budget but also on most of the rest of the important bills before the two houses.

For Governor Goodwin J. Knight has not as yet signed a measure of major importance. This isn't the governor's fault, at least, for the legislature has not sent him measures of vital importance to the state as yet.

The measures he has put pen to have for the most part been technical changes in existing laws.

With the budget on the floor of the house, action is expected sometime this week, primarily because the assembly usually before the state senate passes out the budget comparatively early, so that it can work on the many special appropriation bills before the assemblymen. The constitution prohibits passage of special appropriation measures prior to the passage of the budget in either house, unless special permission is obtained from the governor. And except in cases of major importance, the governor is loath to hand out such information, for every special appropriation throws off the calculations of revenue available for financing the budget.

The governor's budget this year, as it has been in the past, is hte largest in history. Knight asked that $38 million be remover from the document and be placed in a special appropriation measure to finance the start of the Feather River project. Normally, this should have reduced the original $1,947,964,993 document by $32 million, but legislators have added to the total, rather than subtracted from the huge expenditure, so the final total amounts to the $1,915,569,142, a difference of $32,395,851.

This in effect means that the legislature added more than five and a half million dollars to the amount suggested by Governor Knight.

The practice of the senate in the past has been to pass the budget only a day or so ahead of the close of the legislative session. This was done primarily to stop the flow of special appropriation bills introduced by legislators to take care of their pork-barrel appropriations.

There is some indication, however, that Senator James J. MacBride, (D-Ventura) now the chairman of senate finance, may clear the way for action sooner this session. On the other hand, if he does not, many a special appropriation will go down the drain in the closing hours of the legislative session.

The legislature still must take action on additional school appropriations of $70 million, and apparently, will have to find revenue to finance this appropriation if the legislature passes it. Sentiment continues among legislators against beer and cigarette taxes, and there will be little time to develop any other new taxes.

STILL $10,000 SHORT

More than $55,732.50 has been donated to the Cancer Crusade in Santa Clara County it has been reported by Douglas B. Guy, county campaign chairman. "That leaves us short $10,832.50 short of our $66,565 goal," he said, "but we are hopeful that late donations in May will make up the difference."

Post Offices in California Show Steady Growth

Eight post offices in California reached and passed the $200,000 mark in receipts during the past year evidencing the steady growth of the area, Verne Scroggins, regional postal director, has announced.

One post office (Santa Barbara) exceeded $1,000,000 to make a total of 28 post offices in the California-Nevada-Hawaii Region which do an annual business exceeding $1,000,000.

The eight new post offices achieving the $200,000 or more class were: Sunnyvale, $248,000; Garden Grove $240,000; Los Altos, $218,131; Escondido, $215,000; Fontana, $215,000; El Cajon, $209,000; San Lorenzo, $204,000 and Martinez, $201,000.

All post office receipts are turned in to the U. S. Treasury and are apportioned back to post offices by Congress. The San Francisco Region has 1600 post offices of which 121 now have annual receipts exceeding $200,000.

Unprecedented growth in several parts of California is illustrated by the post office figures. Receipts at the Escondido Post Office increased 43.44 per cent during the year. Garden Grove was second with 33.93 per cent and Sunnyvale was third with 27.57 per cent. Martinez had a 10.62 per cent gain.

The festivities opened yesterday with three events running simultaneously—the "It's May Day In Los Banos" festival, the Merced County Spring Fair and the observance of the 50th anniversary of the incorporation of the city.

John Erreca, fair and festival president, said one feature event of the fiesta will be the traditional Premier Parade at 10:30 A.M., Sunday with several hundred entries and some 3,500 participants representing 61 cities located in almost every section of California.

A warning that mussels are poisonous at this time of the year and are under State quarantine has been issued by W. Elwyn Turner, M.D., Director of the Santa Clara County Health Department. "Laboratory findings show that mussels are highly toxic during the quarantine period from May 1 to October 31 due to the ingestion of a minute organism which is present in ocean waters off California in the summer and early autumn months."
